Learning objectives: ...To study the regulation of social policy in Europe and in the European Union  /ANNOTATION/ ..... The course is oriented towards the regulation of social policy in Europe and in the European Union. It is based on the notion of social policy as a social relationship related to the situation of the individual in society in order to ensure social security and a decent standard of living. The lecture cycle distinguishes the concepts of "European legislation" and "European Union law", focusing on the institutional structure, the rulemaking process and the legislation on social relations in the European Union. This creates an opportunity to compare the national legislation of the Republic of Bulgaria with the European standards and to outline the directions for its development.
